CLASSES-FACULTY

Mr. Lawrence McKinney, our new principal, was a stranger and is now a respected friend and leader. His sense of humor and ability as an administrator have made him a part of our life. Mr. McKinney has found our traditions, spirit, and student body enthusiasm a gratifying aspect of working here. He believes in a strong student body and takes an active interest in all our activities, sports, and accomplishments.

Mr. McKinney feels that the motivation for learning should come from within, and that those graduates of Central have learned to think and search for knowledge themselves. As a leader and friend of the Central student body, Mr. McKinney has expressed his warm appreciation to the Central students, for the feeling of acceptance, understanding and respect they have given to him throughout the year.

"Central is a melting pot of youngsters, their ambitions, and their experiences." These words were spoken by our hard working assistant principal, Mr. Merlin Richard. As a member of the Central staff for 36 years, Mr. Richard has taken real pride in his work, working with students and faculty every day. He spends many hours taking care of the accounting, attendance, and welfare of the Central student body, and is most interested in helping those students who need a friendly hand and a bit of advice. Mr. Richard stresses the importance of the high school record in a student's future life and goals.

"I guess I do a little bit of everything." Mr. Harter, our Head Counselor, is one of the busiest men on the Central staff. His duties include preparation and guidance of seniors in choosing their future plans, co-ordinating the IBM equipment for scheduling, and organizing the testing programs and scholarship applications. Although he has countless responsibilities, Mr. Harter still finds time to listen and talk to students who need his guidance. This being Mr. Harter's last year at Central, we wish to extend our thanks to him for the many years he has spent with us.

Mr. Daniels, acting Junior High principal, is a personable member of the Central staff. His duties involve many hours spent in planning the futures of our eighth grade students. He handles all disciplinary problems which arise in the Jr. High building and takes an active interest in all Jr. High activities and accomplishments. Mr. Daniels has been a member of the Central staff for 25 years. He believes that the young people of today are strong individuals and will be able to acquire the important initiative that is needed to succeed in today's world.

These men form the backbone of Central High School faculty and student body. It is impossible to express in this volume the amount of work and time they have contributed in order that we might be a better school, and our students finer citizens.

MR. RICHARD, our assistant principal, MR. DANIELS, Junior High counselor and acting principal, and MR. HARTER, our head counselor are always available to help us with our problems.

MISS JOHANNA LARSON and MRS. LORETTA RUSHING, our librarians, discuss one of the new books which has just arrived.

People are becoming increasingly more aware of the need to have a working knowledge of another language. Central offers four foreign languages: Spanish, French, German, and Latin, with the plan of providing a basic background in the study of these languages for the students who are interested in learning a little more about the world in which they live. So, we struggled through verbs, structure, and genders, and endured cold days in the language lab. We learn to write, speak, and sing in another language, and converse with fellow students. Finally we emerge as bi-lingual scholars.

As We Read History. . .

In civics we did research and discovered what our own career opportunities were. We studied city, state, and national government, the history of our democracy, and relationships between peoples of the world. We finally began to realize that we are small but important parts of our society, school, and country, and that other people are, too.

History taught us of mistakes of past civilizations, and the greatnesses. We learned of great men, places, and events, and tried to relate Greek and Roman philosophies to modern America. We learned of the changes that have taken place in our country, and we tried to predict the future from the past.

We read newspapers and studied current events in government class. We examined the constitution and tried to realize how we have changed and yet kept our basic philosophy in the past years.

Because English is our native language we often take our ability to speak it for granted. Yet, when we realize that English is a required foreign language in almost all the European countries, we can see how important knowledge of the English language is to the western world in communication and maintaining peace.

English is a required course here, too, both to graduate from high school and to enter college. We studied verbs, nouns, and dangling participles, and read Dickens and Twain, and we talked about life as well as literature. We began to recognize good writing, and learned to write more effectively.

Proficiency in English was gained not only through the study of grammar and literature which we received in our required English courses, but also through electives offered to us.

Developmental reading helped us to improve our reading comprehension and speed. We read more every day, and finally got so we could read faster than the timer could run.

Study of the literature of England from the beginning epic to modern authors was covered in the English literature classes. We studied different styles, and the effects of history on the writing of the time.

Pat Stillwagon, Ann Boehm, Pam Orr, and Roberta Rakow use one of the many reading accelerators in Developmental Reading

Speech acquainted us with the process of preparing a good speech and through practice we gained confidence in our speaking ability. In class we laughed at pantomimes, and did serious speaking.

Journalism covered the fundamentals of newspaper writing, the inclusion of "who, what, where, when and why" in a concise account. We also studied editorial and feature writing, and put out an issue of the Interlude.

Through these courses we learned the skills to help us express our thoughts and opinions more clearly. This is important because communication is necessary in everything we do.

Sometimes we put a car together and had just one gear left over. We were covered with grease but still in class, learning a trade. As future architects and engineers, we pored over the draft boards and learned to draw straight lines. We realized the importance of every detail to the building of homes. In wood shop we made furniture, learning to operate the tools that would someday mean our trade. We worked with machines that interested us, and became skillful.

What colors should we blend? What texture must we use? Is this in the proper perspective? Our questions were numerous as we entered into the world of art. We worked with paints, clay, and sculpture, and produced works to please ourselves, the public, and our art teacher, Mr. Marvin. Our own appreciation of art in all forms has grown.

In band, orchestra, chorus, and music theory classes, we learned the beauty and the mathematics of rhythm, chord construction, scales, and works such as preludes, songs, and symphonies. By studying composition and orchestration, we learned of great composers, and of the techniques they used, and saw that writing music, like poetry, involves a lot of work.

As biology students we struggled through long charts of "binomial nomenclature," and graduated to microscopes and dissecting tools. We studied life, from the insides of rabbits to the description of bacteria to the concept of heredity.

In the chemistry lab, we studied valence, reaction, and element properties. We heated, mixed, and massed material and recorded data, and tried to decide why our experiments resulted as they did.

Einstein's Theory is studied in physics, and we contemplated the relationships between matter and energy. We learned about the simple concepts of mass and motion that govern our complex physical world.

In algebra we studied equalities, made graphs and drawings, and worked with the concepts of numbers. We learned reasons and rules, and worked to keep both members of the equation equal.

Geometry brought confusion at first, then understanding of angles, circles, area, and volume. We worked with compasses and straight edges, and learned axioms and postulates to be used in proving theorems, which then were used in proving conclusions of hypotheses. And when the year was done, there was "no man ignorant of geometry."

In trigonometry we examined triangles and the ratios of their sides. We made graphs and learned long lists of sines, tangents, and cosecants. We acquired the use of logarithms and the slide rule, and became aware of the complexities of numbers.

Calculus and analytical geometry are the classes for those who go on to college. We analyzed and computed, and wondered, and worked with higher mathematics. Maybe someday we will be able to prove that $2+2=4$.

BEARS ASCEND TO SEVENTH IN STATE,.....

After disposing of early season uncertainty and inexperience, the 1964-65 Central basketball team proceeded to victimize in succession thirteen of its traditionally formidable opponents. In the championship game of the Sectional, Washington's Panthers finally eclipsed the victory string in a 62-63 thriller that dashed Central Turney hopes and brought the final season record to 15-6. This overall favorable showing by the cagers earned them recognition as the state's number seven team.

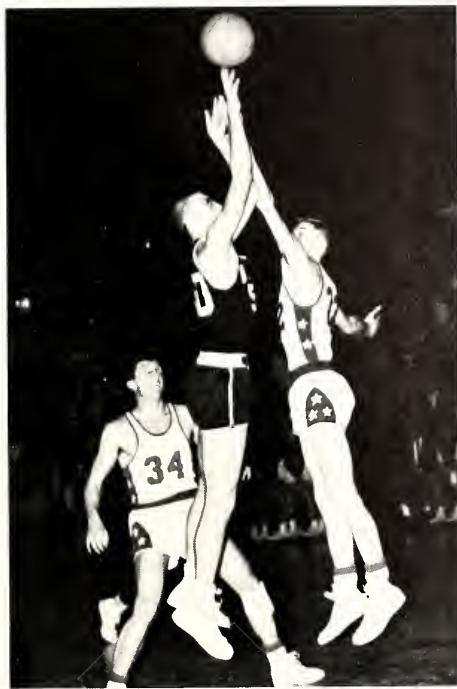

The hardcourt campaign had opened in almost as exciting a manner as it ended, with the Central quintet squeezing past St. Joe by three points in an overtime. Triumphant in only two of their next seven outings, the Bears occasionally fought tenaciously but faltered often against state powerhouses like Indianapolis Washington, East Chicago Washington, and Gary Roosevelt. However, the clash with city rival Adams marked the beginning of a change in Bear basketball fortunes. The Eagles became the first of the unlucky thirteen clubs that fell prey to the Bruin barrage which then smothered Muncie Central, Riley, and Penn, each by more than ten points. The cagers' knack for winning persisted as they downed annually sticky Washington, Anderson and Mishawaka. Highly touted Lebanon could not withstand Central's attack, nor could Fort Wayne North on the following weekend, although the latter contest was close throughout. At Elkhart in the regular season's closing skirmish, the Bears scrambled as they never had before to salvage an unnerving overtime triumph. In gaining a berth in the Sectional championship tilt, the Central five rolled over Mishawaka, outlasted a staunch St. Joe team and beat back John Adams.

Greg Henderson, Jim Gerhold, Larry Edler, John Sovinski, and John Ferrell were the varsity's senior members. Gerhold, at 6'5", and Henderson, at 6'4", started regularly and were indispensable as the squad's big men underneath. The talent laden junior fivesome of Leon Davis, Richard Smith, Emerson Carr, Wade Fuller and Karl Simon will return next season.

B-TEAM BEATEN ONLY TWICE

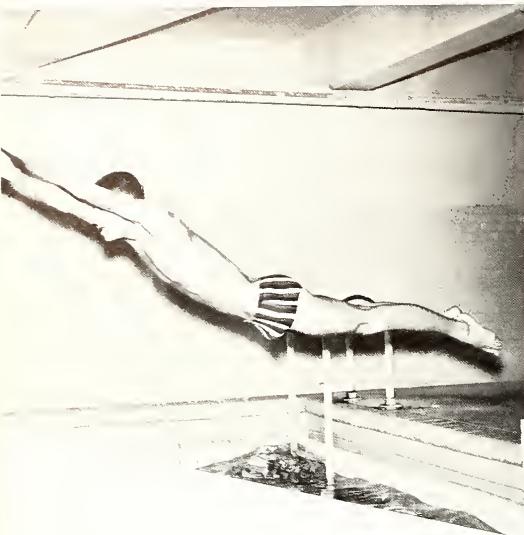

Central's 1964-65 wrestling squad, under the supervision of Coach John McNarney, indicated once again that Bear grapplers rank among the best trained and most respected competitors in this area. The matmen took part in 12 regular season meets and were victorious in 9 of them, including a 26-21 victory over a powerful Riley squad. Central finished second in the conference with a 5 and 1 mark.

In tournament competition, the Bruins didn't perform as well as in previous years, with not a single Central grappler emerging victorious from the Lafayette regionals. Phil Skinner, Tony Rouse and Tom Daniels all represented Central as sectional champions, and Skinner was victorious in the NIC meet, as were Charles Price and Jeff McIntyre. Both Skinner and Rouse also captured Holiday Tourney Championships, even though Central could manage only a 3rd in that meet, behind Adams and Riley.

Central's senior wrestlers were led by Al Gilbert (won 12, lost 8), Phil Skinner (won 20, lost 2 and tied 1), Charles Price (won 18, lost 3), and Wendell Harmon (won 10, lost 7). In all the Bear senior contingent racked up a 75-45 won-lost record.

A determined Jeff McIntyre maneuvers for a pin.

John Wagner practices racing dives and polishes turn to improve his performance.

SWIMMERS STROKE TO VICTORY

A new City Meet 200-yard medley record and five new school marks constituted the most outstanding achievements of the 1965 Central swimming team. The squad also won eight of twelve dual meets, took third in the Conference Meet and a tenth position down state. The tankmen finished 4th in the Conference, and took a 5th spot in the Sectional.

Co-captain John Wagner along with Dennis Stites, Terry Daoust, and Jerry Vancik pooled their efforts in the 200-yard medley competition to shear the old City Meet mark by almost two full seconds. The five rewritten school records were the 160-yard medley relay, the 200-yard medley relay, the 160-yard freestyle relay, the 100-yard breaststroke and the 100-yard backstroke.

One of the four Bear losses came at the hands of the state's number three team, John Adams, and the two inflicted by Mishawaka and Washington were in extremely close contests.

Boys competing this year for the last time were Wagner, Daoust, Spencer Badet, Bill Crum, Nick Borsodi and Mike Hunnickey.

Although its efforts were commendable, the 1964 Bear tennis team struggled through a winless season. In their first match against Mishawaka, the netters came closer to victory than at any other time during the year, losing by a tight 3-4 count. Succeeding opponents blanked the Bears on four occasions and completely thwarted every attempt at victory.

Dick Collins, participating in competition this year for the first time, was the only senior. As number two man, he earned the best singles record of 3 wins and 5 defeats. Junior captain, Tate Grorud, held the number one position and finished with a 2-6 individual mark. Jim Hotop and Jim Lane, both sophomores, and Tom Nowicki, a junior, will also return next season.

X-MEN BEST IN SEVEN YEARS

A young, well balanced cross country team compiled 9 victories and 7 defeats in 1964, for the second best dual meet record in Central history. While on its winning way, the squad recorded two outstanding wins over LaPorte and Fort Wayne North, the latter being the Bears' first success in eighteen attempts against the perennially potent North harriers.

A trio of Central runners, Mike Jackson, Joe Fitzgerald and Bob Seals maintained sub-eleven minute averages for the entire season. Individually, Fitzgerald, the Most Valuable runner, copped four first places, captain Jackson got one first, and Seals, a freshman, was the Bears' first finisher in the city meet.

Mike Johns, and Dennis Schermerhorn, along with Fitzgerald, were the squad's only seniors. Al Banks, Steve Hart, and Bob Keuhl completed the varsity squad.

Mike Martin leaps high for a pass, as Goshen player lunges to defend.

BEAR STYLE

Playing one of the most difficult schedules in Indiana high school football, the Central gridders struggled to a 3-5-1 record. Opponents — among them four of the state's best five teams — often displayed power, speed, and experience which the Bears, despite some valiant efforts, could not equal.

St. Joe's Indians, ranked number one, were the Bruins' first opponents. At halftime with the score noted 13-13, it looked as if the Tribe was in for stiff resistance. But in the second half, played in a drenching rain, St. Joe scored four times and stifled the Bear offense to win 39 to 13.

The following two contests were bright spots in the football story. Mishawaka's Tupper Field, on another miserably wet evening, was the scene of a struggle in which the Maroons were nosed out 7-0 by a Mike Martin touchdown and fine Central defensive play.

In a third damp and muddy game, witnessed by only a handful of spectators at Michigan City, Rick Niezgodski and Mike Martin each scored on punt returns to give coach Szucs' eleven their second conference victory, 12-7.

The gridders then journeyed to Fort Wayne Central Catholic, where they were frustrated with a 13-13 tie. Junior fullback Karl Simon highlighted two long drives with touchdowns. A Duke Bailey interception initiated a late Bruin surge that left the ball on C C's one-yard line when time ran out.

GRIDDERS OPPOSE FOUR OF STATE'S

In the annual Central-Adams homecoming clash, an ineffective Bear team fell victim to the highly spirited Eagles by a 22-0 count. However, the next week against Gashen, the situation was reversed, as the Central offense rolled up 27 points, while a staunch defensive effort shutout the Redskins.

As tough as the season had been up to this point, the most challenging encounters were yet to come against Riley Washington and Elkhart, ranked number 4, 5 and 3 respectively in the final state poll. Riley inflicted the season's worst defeat on the Bears, 35 to 0. City rival, Washington then whipped the Bruins 27-7, collecting three tallies in the first half. In a contest which somewhat resembled Central's opening season game, the Bears matched a strong Elkhart club in the first half and trailed only 13-12 after two quarters. However, the Blazers thundered back in the second half, while Central could not move. The result was a 33 to 12 Elkhart victory.

The regular positions of seniors Bruce Best, Chuck Dawson, Mike Martin, George Basker, Dave Balogh, Duke Bailey, Doug Roberts, Dave Muldrow and Bob Harris will be vacated this year because of graduation. Prospects are favorable for next season, however, with returning starters Dan Kyle, Rick Niezgadski, Norman Martin, Jim Wilder, Karl Simon, Ray Nick and Dennis Grzegorek.

GOLFERS WIN FIVE MATCHES

Battling seventeen formidable opponents and, at times, the unpredictable elements, the Central golf team straked to a 5 and 12 record. The links-men won victories over Dowagiac, Goshen, Adams, and twice over Mishawaka, turning in their lowest total of 315 against Goshen. The best individual average, 80.2, was maintained by junior, Al Hemig, who fired the year's hottest round, a 73, against Mishawaka at Eberhart golf course. The only seniors were Mike Wrublewski and Dan Otolski, a pair of steady performers. Mike Scott, a junior, served as team captain. Brad Byrer and John Abernathy completed the varsity squad.

South Bend-Mishawaka Tournament 3rd

Intensively concentrating, Mike Scott is ready to putt.

Concluding only his second season as head track coach, Mr. Gilkey has good reason to be proud of his cindermen's 1964 performance. Throughout the season, consistently fine team effort was mixed with superior individual achievements. A perfect 9-0 dual record, the city championship, and a 3rd in the conference meet resulted from the timely combination of these two assets. The Bear tracksters also won the Valpo Relays, took 3rd in the Goshen Relays, 2nd in the Sectional, 3rd in the Regional, and concluded down state with a seventh place.

A trio of senior lettermen, along with a number of junior returnees gave indispensable depth, balance, and experience to the team. Bruin performance was especially outstanding at the annual city track meet, in which Central runners established five new meet records. Senior co-captain, Lodus Rhodes, notched record breaking times in both the high and low hurdle events, and was voted the season's Most Valuable Player. In the 880 relay, co-captain Dick Neher, Ed Polk, Bob Harris and Mike Martin teamed up in a record breaking performance. Martin and Jerry Ward, a pair of seasoned juniors, individually bettered long standing marks in the 440 and mile run respectively. Down state, the quartet composing the mile relay squad — Harris, Ward, Martin and Mike Reed — captured a second spot behind state champ, East Chicago Roosevelt.

BEARS BREAK EVEN WITH 8-8 RECORD

Hurler Dick Collins is "into the wind-up."

The 1965 baseball team needed to win all three games in the city tourney to end the season with an even 8-8 record. This the club did in fine style, as it beat Washington 5 to 4 and Clay 8 to 5 to move into the championship game against St. Joe. The thrilling finale went 9 innings before Vern Kraft drove in the run that gave Coach Newbold's squad a 4-3 victory and the city title. For his overall tournament performance and attitude, senior Dan Goodman received the coveted Boland Award.

In the regulation season opening game, Washington fell prey to a strong Central team by a 20 to 2 count. Thereafter, however, the club seemed to win and lose in spurts. The Bears were handed four straight defeats by Mishawaka, Adams, St. Joe and Elkhart before they regained winning form. The diamondmen blanked Greene, 8 to 0, LaPorte, 3 to 0, then nipped Mishawaka 8-7 in a rematch. Next Gashen squeaked by the Bears by a 3-2 margin. Washington got their revenge, and St. Joe made it two in a row against Central in the succeeding contests. A 5-1 win over Michigan City, followed by a 7-0 shutout at the hands of Riley made the record 5 and 8 going into the tourney.

Fred Kruger and Goodman served as team co-captains. In addition, Kruger captured the Kiwanis Award while Goodman was named the Most Valuable Player.

ACTIVITIES

Norm Gurwitz, Darphine Hoston, Mickey Prelepa, and Ike Batalis, the 1964-65 officers of the Student Council, look over the minutes of a recent meeting. Working together, they were responsible for the many activities enjoyed by Centralites.

"OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE

One of the functions the Student Council performs is the organization of underclass elections. Dann King, Clea Calyvas, and Ike Batalis meet with sophomores for this purpose.

"The meeting will now come to order!" These are familiar words in the Little Theater, as students learn that school government is a complicated business. The Student Council is entirely run by students, but usually Mr. Kuhny, the faculty advisor, drops in with a comment or word of advice.

Among the traditional activities supervised by the Student Council are the Thanksgiving baskets, giving everyone a chance to help needy families; running the stamp machine, a non-profit endeavor; organizing the annual Central carnival; and giving social hops. New programs introduced this year were recognition for straight-A students and a plaque for retiring teachers.

One of the most exciting aspects of the Student Council is the week-long election campaign, directed by Mr. Hoyer. Political speeches, posters, and the use of voting machines all generate enthusiasm.

Ideas can be exchanged in many different ways, and knowledge gained from sources other than school books. Central participates in a program for exchanging ideas and gaining understanding through knowledge. This program is called The American Field Service. In high schools all over the country many an exchange student looks with wide eyes at his new surroundings and perhaps wonders, "What am I doing here, away from home?" His thoughts are not in English; they could be in one of a hundred languages used throughout the world. Soon, as he adapts to the customs and conditions of his new environment, this question seems to answer itself. "I am here to learn about the United States and to help explain my country to you. I am here to further peace through understanding." This answer is the purpose of American Field Service and every day, with every foreign exchange student, it comes closer to its goal.

Central is known in South Bend as having the most active Booster Club in the city. This year, sponsored by Mr. Nelson, we've even gone beyond our previous accomplishments. The Booster Club organized the first voluntary pep rally for the football team at School Field, which was a huge success, and issued Football and Basketball Handbooks — a first in the state. The Club sponsored buses to away games and also to Washington gym for home games. Record boards were put up for swimming and track, and posters, signs, and handbills publicized all school activities. The trophies for the most valuable athletes were purchased by the Booster Club along with decals, hats, and pins in orange and blue. For the first time this year, the Booster Club took charge of the student section of the book store and sold school supplies.

"SHE WAS OUR QUEEN,

The brisk, blustering autumn evening supplied an atmosphere spiced with excitement for the crowning of the 1964-65 Football Queen at the annual Central-Adams football game. Nine senior girls comprised the court and this moment was perhaps the first step in the realization of their roles as seniors. For three years they had sat in the stands during the games and tried to guess who would be chosen queen. Now it was their turn to experience the thrill of being selected to participate in a traditional activity at CHS. Nine smiling teenagers became young ladies as they rode in the field in open convertibles. Descending from their make-believe carriages, the girls and their escorts walked sedately to the center of the field. The spectators maintained a breathless silence while the announcer began the long awaited "the Queen is —" and then there was an incredulous gasp from Linda Witt as she realized the name just spoken had been hers.

Central's Football Queen Linda Witt and the Adams High School Queen smile happily as they make the traditional exchange of roses, thus highlighting the Central-Adams weekend.

The activities for our basketball weekend began with a joint pep rally between Central and Washington. The next evening our Bears met the Panthers on the basketball court and proved their prowess by winning the game! During half time the Queen's Court was presented and each girl was greeted with cheers as she was introduced and escorted to the center of the floor. The loud crowd of sports fans changed to a quiet group of proud friends. The traditional breathless silence preceded the announcement of this year's Basketball Queen, Jackie Keating. The crown was placed upon her head, and the court slowly walked off, returning the mood in the gym to one of excitement over the game.

Perhaps the greatest Central tradition is that of "Ziggy." It is the symbol of our school spirit, and is actually a Zulu war cry. Mr. P. C. Winther, one of our best beloved teachers until his retirement two years ago, was born and raised in the Union of South Africa. He introduced the yell to Central about 38 years ago.

The Ziggy yell goes as follows:

"Koon jana ma dooto?"
 Ziggy, Ziggy, Ziggy!
 "Koon jana ma rana?"
 Ziggy, Ziggy, Ziggy!
 "Koon jana ma doto?"
 "Koon jana ma dooto?"
 Ziggy, Ziggy, Ziggy!

"Ziggy" means "Kill 'em," and Central has certainly kept up the tradition that Mr. Winther started so long ago.

"LAUGHING FELLOW

It has been said that physical activity is necessary for better mental activity and that a well-rounded person participates in both areas. This is true for girls as well as boys, and the Central Girls Club was formed to provide supervised physical activity for any female Central student interested. Consisting of five specialized clubs within one general club, the C.G.C. offers team sports, swimming, modern dance, and bowling. The varsity and B-team cheerleaders are also members and form their own special club.

Each club chooses a chairman who represents the girls at the executive board meetings held with Miss Mathews. The officers are chosen from these representatives. These girls help plan the club activities such as having soc hops to earn money, and planning a banquet for the presentation of awards at the end of the year.

They practice synchronized swimming and water ballet. The girls themselves compose the ballets and give a performance in the spring for their parents. In the Modern Dance Club, sponsored by Mrs. Hunter, the girls practice forms and interpretations of music. Miss Kruckel sponsors the Bowling Club which meets at the Bowlmor instead of at school. The girls either learn how to bowl or practice improving their games, and they then form teams to play against each other. At the end of the year an Awards Banquet is held to honor the girls who have won awards in their clubs. In the orchestra class, we did the background for the all-school production, "Edgar Allan Poe," and rehearsed programs for concerts and contests. We studied Beethoven's Eight Symphony fully, and came early in the mornings for rehearsals until it became a habit. Our friendly competition with the band made us work hard, and we learned about rhythm, theory, and the styles of many composers.

Orchestra meant long practices and "challenges" for "chairs," a way of determining rank according to skill. We prepared for our Winter Concert, competed in the State Contest for Orchestra, and some of us won positions in the All-City Orchestra. There we practiced more, and gave a concert at Morris Civic Auditorium.

In order to attain perfection in its work, the orchestra must practice many hours.

"FOR A WELL ROUNDED LIFE,

Strike up the band!!

Our efforts were well received at state contests where we proved to be one of the finest bands in Indiana. Each one of our practices was spent in developing more precision and patience as we prepared vigorously for our winter concert and contests. We spent long hours in the rain in marching practice, and many hours in class, surrounded by noise that would be music only after practice. But we did practice, and made music every time Mr. Singleton led us in concert. Just as the band played classical and popular, so did we raise spirits at pep assemblies and games. We all had sore ears and throats after blasting "Go, Team, Go!!" Music is worth all the work.

"WHERE WORDS FAIL,

We got to school early and stayed late to practice singing for performances. But it was all worth it — perhaps in just one moment of joy in music. We gave many concerts: at the Progress Club, churches, and with the All City Chorus in the Morris Civic Auditorium. We made a fine showing at the Bethel College student convocation in March. Our new director, Mr. Miller, led us in our specialty of sacred and traditional selections.

"We hold fast to the memories of our Glee Club, loud and strong. As they lead our school in joyful and traditional song."

MUSIC SPEAKS"

Hans Christian Anderson

For the members of the Glee Club, the school day begins at 7:20.

Ruth Luebke, Miriam Weinstein, Betty Brinley, Walter Tribble, Terri Goltz, and

Chris Frederick take leading roles in the play, "Polly With a Past."

"WILD PASSION'S CHILD, AND SORROW'S TWIN"

Thomas Bailey Aldrich

The all school play "Poe," produced and directed by Mr. James Lewis Casaday, was presented February 19 and 20. The script for the production, written by Linda Harman, Ruth Luebke, Mariam Weinstein, Adolphus Butler, Bill Inwood, and Steve Rector, included many of Poe's short stories and poems. Miss Margaret DeGroote's fourth hour English class gave a choral reading of "The Bells." Choreography was done by Mrs. Patricia Hunter and Mr. David Evans for the seven different colored rooms of "The Masque of the Red Death." Mr. Zeal Fisher did the orchestrations and directed the Central "show" orchestra, and Mr. Daniel Miller was in charge of the vocal parts. The entire production used a cast of one hundred fifty students.

Appearing in a scene from "The Masque of the Red Death" are Ruth Luebke, Henry Martin, and Freeman Smith.

Carol Krueger, as Mrs. Poe, accompanies Woodward Ramine, as Poe, as he recites, "The Raven."

Woodward Ramine, Bill Inwood, and Nadya Pawlowski appear in, "The Fall of the House of Usher."

"QUOTH THE RAVEN, 'NEVERMORE'"

Edgar Allan Poe

Appearing in the act, "He Misses His Missus" are in front Celia White, Ruth Luebke, and Allene Wright. In the rear are Nancy

Baucher, Mirra Witters, Nadya Pawlowski, Woodward Ramine, Becky Trabaugh, Jaan Inwood, Bayla Halasz.

"...THE HONORABLE PROFESSIONS OF LAW AND PHYSICS"

Henry Clay

The Law Club was a first this year, for Central and the entire South Bend School Corporation. This "pilot" club was organized under the direction of the Young Lawyers section of the Indiana State Bar Association, and Mr. Kuhny guided the club at Central. It sponsored the naturalization assembly with Judge Grant which was presented before the student body. The club went to Notre Dame for mock trials, actual law classes, and films.

Members of the Law Club are G. Kush, N. Powlowski, A. Hogy, P. Schreiner, J. Wolf, D. King, M. Joseph, M. Minning, M. Osowski, P. Horvath.

Officers of the Future Doctors Club are Mike Johns, Carol Krueger, and Sue Ruethe.

The Future Doctors of Central was begun again this year after several years of non-existence. We became a chapter of the South Bend Future Doctors' Club, and attended lectures by physicians and students. We saw films concerning various fields related to medicine. Our field trips included touring Memorial Hospital, the radiation laboratory at Notre Dame, and LOBUND the germ-free laboratory at Notre Dame. In the future, we hope to go to Indianapolis to tour the Medical School before we actually become students there.

The Junior Isaac Walton League is devoted to the conservation and study of Nature. Its members visit state parks and forests, and learn to construct animal shelters and to preserve wild life.

Many frantic hours of work at the library go into the preparation of cases in Debate. Guided by Mr. Poerbaugh, debaters and extemporaneous speakers prepare for tournaments, among them an exciting weekend at Purdue.

Members of Miss Ceyak's Spanish Club gain experience in conversation by conducting meetings entirely in Spanish. Speakers, films, and reports help make Spanish countries more familiar.

Members of the Junior Isaac Walton League discuss various wild life specimens during their study of conservation.

Preparing to leave for the Tri-State tournament between Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana debate are Mike Humnicky, John Wolf, Paul Schreiner, and Helmut Haefke.

"ANTICIPATE

The Future Teachers Club, sponsored by Mrs. Heritage, provides those students aspiring to teaching careers an opportunity to learn about the profession. The Future Teachers enjoy hours of learning experience by helping teachers at various grade schools in the city.

The members of the Future Health Careers Club, under the guidance of Mrs. Foulks, perform many duties ranging from babysitting to volunteer social work at health organizations in South Bend.

The J.E.T.S. (Junior Engineering and Technical Society), sponsored by Mr. Cox, is dedicated to the development of interest and knowledge in the field of science.

Denyse Trytka, Cheryl Krzyzaniak, Sue Smith, and Jackie Davis, officers of the Future Health Careers Club, discuss ideas for interesting meetings.

The officers of the Future Teachers Club, Nanci North, Cathy Hardy, Ken Malinaro, and Kathy Kuespert, provide interesting and informative programs for the club members.

Throughout the year the J.E.T.S. study new and advanced ideas in the sciences. The club officers, Bill Inwood, Marilyn Smith, Anne Schall, and Mike Humnickly appear very interested in a bomb sight.

Planning part of the program for the Tri-Hi-Y are the officers: Betty Erhardt, sergeant-at-arms; Norma Ewing, secretary; Judy Edington, president; and Sharon Springer, treasurer.

Character, ideals, and friendship are the goals of the Tri-Hi-Y. This club is associated with the Y.M.C.A. and is for girls only. Sponsored by Mrs. Spohnholz, the Tri-Hi-Y has many projects throughout the year, some fund raising, others social and guidance for its members.

The Hi-Y is the masculine counterpart of the Tri-Hi-Y. Also affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., the Hi-Y members participate in a full program of projects and activities throughout the year. Under the leadership of Mr. Catanzarite, the Hi-Y works hard to promote friendship and co-operation among its members and the student body.

Did you have difficulty locating a book in the library this year? If so, you could have asked the help of one of the members of the Library Club. This group provides Central students with an efficient and well-kept library. Under the guidance of Miss Larson, the student librarians collect fines, check out books, and arrange the shelves neatly.

Hi-Y members confer about ideas for new projects enacted this year. Their officers are Gregg Barth, chaplain; Radney Yance, secretary; Mike Elias, vice-president; Matthew Kingsbury, treasurer, and John Gardner, president.

"THE STRENGTH IS THE

Checking out books is one of the many jobs and duties performed by these members of the Library Club: Bill Erdes, Dixie Gaheen, John Shambry, Betty Cauffman, and Angela Hawkins.

One duty of the Ushers Club is to control the crowds during the half-time at basketball games. Three ushers, Ken Marosz, Mike Tahr, and Russ Eisner display their teamwork.

In addition to running projectors for classes, the Audio-Visual Club learns about other phases of photography. Dennis Kurek, John Smerekovich, and John Haran observe a camera.

As members of the Ushers Club, we worked at games, plays, and concerts, guiding viewers to their seats and controlling the crowds during intermissions. We saw the crowds' excitement at games, and got to attend most school functions.

If any teacher needed a film or tape to supplement a class, the Audio-Visual Club provided the film, projector, and screen. We learned to operate and repair equipment and put our knowledge to practical use.

Any banners or posters proclaiming school events, plays, games, or campaigns were provided by the Art Service Club. We spent many hours trying to create original drawings and slogans, and working with paint, chalk, and talent to produce needed advertisements.

OF THE SHIP SERVICE"

Ronald Hapwood

Some of the members of the Art Club, Wilma Potts, Peggy Sherer, and behind, Ellen Davis, Marge Manning, Nancy Tailor, and Alnetta Harris, relax after completing one of their activities.

Circulation, advertising, and business are all difficult tasks handled capably by Julie Willfang, Allene Wright, Jackie Keating, Bonnie Rosenbaum, and Nancy North.

"MAKE THAT RECOLLECTION DURABLE

Kristin Anderson has many responsibilities as this year's editor-in-chief of the Interlude newspaper. Here she compares a recent issue with one published years ago.

Each new issue of the Interlude newspaper requires much hard work and planning. Hurriedly typing an article is Michele Katz, page one editor. Anne Schall, page two editor, John Wagner, page three, and Doug Roberts, sports, discuss fresh ways of presenting the news.

Assignments vary, but all efforts are aimed at creating the best yearbook possible. Here Lois Camba, business section head, checks subscription cards; Chris Kogel, underclass, and Candy Barnes, faculty, draw up dummy sheets while Carol Fiedler, senior section head, and Ilze Klarks, classes section head, discuss various ways of presenting their sections in the yearbook.

...BY PUTTING IT DOWN IN WRITING"

Benjamin Franklin

How does one describe that unique quality that symbolizes CHS? It may be spirit of ability or the ever-changing current of activity pulsing through the corridors. The Interlude staff doesn't try to break down and analyze this quality but does try to capture it in the representation of Central through the pages of the newspaper and yearbook.

To recognize this quality it is necessary for the staff and section heads to be present during the special and eventful moments of the school year — to catch an intent look on a student's questioning face — to recognize the value of a personal opinion and to publish it as an editorial or feature story — to report the accomplishment of a student-sponsored organization. These moments must be recorded with vividness so that the memories will be printed in our minds as well as in the newspaper and yearbook.

SENIORS AND UNDER

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Senior Class Officers — Greg Jackson, Vice-President, Cricket Anderson, Secretary, Bonny Rasebaum, Treasurer, and John Ferrell, President — were the motivating force that made our Fish Fry and Senior Prom a success.

NOW, WE LOOK AHEAD WITH CONFIDENCE

These confident Freshmen seem to be getting used to that hectic lunch line that bothers all new students at first. Waiting patiently are Greg Kaczarowski, Ilana Hess, and Carolyn Combs.

Jim Wcislo, Anthony Weaver, Catherine Webb, John Weissfuss, Peggy Weissfuss, Jim Welch, Sue Wert, Glenda White, Janet White.

Joe Zaworski, Reedil Zehender, Karen Zimmerman, Pete Zink.

Momentary confusion seems to rule our lives at this time. We are concerned, puzzled, and depressed by many things, many days. Yet we are also sensitive to the good, pleasurable aspects of living now, being our age now. Our confusion comes from our desire for stability, or rather, a sureness concerning our actions. So we are constantly changing, looking for an assurance that what we are doing is right. Our opinions change, fluctuate, as well as our goals. Naturally this not so apparent upheaval of the mind is not seen — or experienced — by all. It can be noticed in those who are affected, though, by the change in actions and facial expressions.

Spontaneously we laugh one minute — and cry the next. Each emotion is felt with an equal amount of sincerity and because of this, impossible to suppress. Thus the pictures in the introduction have captured many of our moods — and the changeability of our emotions. The free verse commentary tries to follow the flow of our thoughts, relating our actions to the answers we seek. Because we are unsure of our future, the only thing we can do with any amount of certainty is live and experience as much as we can now, today — and not wait passively for tomorrow.
